

ALITALIA: FROM MIDNIGHT TICKETS FOR FLIGHTS DEPARTING FROM 15/10 WILL NO LONGER BE SOLD POSSIBLE REPROGRAMMING OR REFUND

- From midnight today (Wednesday 25 August) Alitalia will no longer sell tickets for flights departing from 15 October.
- Alitalia will send an email to passengers with clear instructions for those who have already purchased flights.
- It is possible to reschedule the flight with the Company by October 14 or receive a full refund.

Rome, 24 August - Alitalia under Extraordinary Administration from midnight today will no longer sell tickets for flights from 15 October. At the same time, it will send a prompt and direct communication, via e-mail, to customers who have purchased flights departing from 15 October. The note includes instructions for managing tickets. In order to ensure full consumer protection, it will be possible to replace the flight with another equivalent operated by Alitalia by 14 October; otherwise full refund of the ticket will also be possible. The communication campaign responds to the Company's desire to manage the situation in a clear and transparent way, safeguarding consumers.
