Alitalia: Paypal, new online payment option

Rome, December 02, 2020 - Alitalia is introducing a new payment option for its customers using all company's online sales channels: they can now purchase air tickets and any additional services through PayPal, the most popular fast, simple and secure online payment system in the world.

The PayPal payment is available both on the alitalia.com website and on the Company's app for iOS and Android and is offered to the customers as the first choice.

Through PayPal it is possible to purchase both airline tickets and all available additional services to enrich the travel experience of the Alitalia customer, such as, for example, the comfort seat aboard, the extra baggage and the fast track.

PayPal is a full free service. No fee are requested. Both guest and registered users can pay through PayPal. Registration for PayPal is free and can be done on the paypal.it website.

The method of payment with PayPal is fully safe as it is sufficient to enter the username and password of your PayPal account to complete the transaction. The security of the data provided to PayPal is constantly protected thanks to the automatic encryption of the confidential data.
